<td>Breakfast at hotel. Visit HD Moray and Maras, first you will visit Archeological complex of Moray, where you can see four slightly elliptical agricultural terraces, that the people call muyus. The largest structure is 45 meters / 148 feet deep, and the average height of each terrace is 2 meters / 3 feet. Many think that this place was an important agricultural experimentation center for the Incas. Through the use of concentric terraces and because the temperature is different in each of their level, all the ecological tiers found in the confines of the Tahuantinsuyo Empire would have been reproduced in this complex. Then Maras; these salt-mines have been used since the Tahuantinsuyo. The people channel the salt water that bubbles to the surface from a spring called Qoripujio towards men-made wells. From the exposure to the sun, the water evaporates and the salt remains on the surface to be transported later to the market to be sold. The view of this complex of nearly 3000 wells is spectacular. Evening flight from Cusco to Lima. Reception and transfer to your hotel. You will have the night at Costa del Sol Ramada Airport to rest before your departure flight at 3:00 AM in the morning.
